Commentary

Definitions

Trend series estimates are used to "smooth" data to enable longer term trends to become more noticeable. They are the preferred series to use when making a comparison over time, e.g. 12 months.

Original series estimates (or unadjusted estimates) are the survey data as collected, generalised to the relevant population. These estimates have not been seasonally adjusted or trend adjusted ("smoothed").

Employment

States' trend series comparisons—

The Australian and State trend series comparisons, shown on page 24, indicate that there was an increase of 0.5 per cent in Tasmania's employment over the year to December 1994. The largest percentage increase in employment was in Queensland (5.2 per cent). The next highest increase in employment was in Western Australia (4.4 per cent), followed by NSW (3.4 per cent) and Victoria (2.7 per cent). South Australia had an increase in employment of 1.7 per cent.

Regional Tasmania's original series figures—

In the Hobart and Southern Statistical Division the estimate of unadjusted employment increased by 600 between December 1993 and December 1994 to 100 200. The estimate of employment in the Mersey-Lyell Statistical Division was 45 400 in December 1994, an increase of 4800 on the figure for December 1993. Employment in the Northern Statistical Division decreased by 6500 between December 1993 and December 1994 to 53 200.

(See tables 3–8, pages 2–7.)

Unemployment

Tasmania's trend series figures—

The Tasmanian provisional trend series estimate of 24 300 unemployed persons in December 1994 was a decrease of 2700 on the figure for December 1993 of 27 000. The estimate of the unemployment rate of 11.1 per cent in December 1994 was a decrease compared to the estimate of the unemployment rate of 12.2 per cent in December 1993.

(See tables 3–8, pages 2–7.)

The labour force

Tasmania's trend series figures—

In December 1994 there was an unadjusted estimate of 366 600 civilian Tasmanians aged 15 or more. There were an estimated 219 200 persons (based on trend series estimates) in the labour force. The estimate of the labour force participation rate in December 1994 was 59.8 per cent, compared with the figure of 60.5 per cent in December 1993.

For males, the estimate of the participation rate was 71.9 per cent, the same as that recorded in December 1993. For females, the estimate of the participation rate was 48.1 per cent (compared with 49.5 per cent in December 1993).

Employed wage and salary earners

In June 1994 there were approximately 143 100 employed wage and salary earners in Tasmania. In June 1992 the figure was 143 700 employed wage and salary earners.

In May 1994 the Tasmanian public sector accounted for 33.8 per cent of all employed wage and salary earners. Overall, the category Community services had the highest industry representation—30.8 per cent—compared with the equivalent figure of 26.3 per cent recorded in May 1992. The next highest industry grouping was Wholesale trade and Retail trade (19.1 per cent, compared with 19.7 per cent in May 1992) and Manufacturing (13.3 per cent, compared with 15.0 per cent in May 1992).

In May 1994, women made up 45.6 per cent of employed wage and salary earners. In May 1992, the equivalent figure was 45.5 per cent.

Award rates of pay indexes

The annual movement from November 1993 to November 1994 of weekly award rates of pay indexes for Tasmania rose by 1.0 per cent for full-time adult females and by 0.9 per cent for full-time adult males. For Australia, the figures were 1.4 per cent for females and 1.3 per cent for males, for a combined annual increase of 1.3 per cent.

For full-time adult female employees in Tasmania, the largest industry increases over this 12-month period occurred in Recreation, personal and other services (3.0 per cent); Manufacturing (2.4 per cent); and Wholesale and retail trade (2.4 per cent).

For the same period for full-time adult male employees in Tasmania, the largest industry increases occurred in Recreation, personal and other services (2.2 per cent); and Wholesale and retail trade (1.9 per cent).

The largest occupation increases over the same period for full-time adult female employees occurred in Plant and machine operators, and drivers (2.2 per cent); and Tradespersons (1.8 per cent).

For full-time adult male employees the largest occupation increases over the period occurred in Salespersons and personal service workers (1.9 per cent); Labourers and related workers (1.2 per cent); and Plant and machine operators, and drivers (1.2 per cent).

Prices for building materials

Prices for house building materials in Hobart increased by 3.9 per cent over the twelve month period ending November 1994, which was the highest rise for all capital cities. The national increase was 3.2 per cent with Adelaide recording the lowest increase at 1.2 per cent.

Prices for building materials used in building other than house building increased in Hobart by 1.5 per cent in the year ended November 1994, which was the lowest of all the capital cities. The national increase was 2.5 per cent, with Sydney recording the largest increase at 3.1 per cent.

Major contributors to the annual movement in Hobart were non-ferrous pipes and fittings (up 30.2 per cent), pre-cast concrete products (up 11 per cent) and structural timber (up 8.4 per cent).

Price Index of Materials Used in Other Than House Building, November 1994, ABS Catalogue No. 6407.0, released on 19 January 1995, $13.00; and Price Index of Materials Used in House Building, November 1994, ABS Catalogue No. 6408.0, released on 19 January 1995, $10.00.

Housing finance

The trend estimate for new secured housing finance commitments entered into in Tasmania in November 1994 was 989, valued at $62.7 million. This represented a 0.3 per cent increase on the number (986) and a 0.3 per cent increase on the value ($62.5 million) for October 1994.

These figures also represent a 8.1 per cent decrease on the number (1076) and a 4.1 per cent decrease on the value ($65.4 million) for November 1993. In comparison, the corresponding national figures showed a 16.3 per cent decrease on the number and an 13.0 per cent decrease on the value for November 1993.

The increase in the November 1994 trend estimate for number of new secured housing finance commitments in Tasmania, though minor, was the first time since January 1994 that the series has risen. In comparison, the national trend estimate for November 1994 fell by 3.5 per cent, continuing a decline which began in April 1994.

Housing Finance for Owner Occupation, ABS Catalogue No. 5609.0, released on 23 January 1994, $13.00.

Livestock slaughtering

Trend estimates—

The Tasmanian trend estimate for slaughtering of cattle and calves is higher in November 1994 than in October 1994, while for sheep and lambs, and pigs the trend estimate is lower.

Livestock slaughtering for cattle and calves has shown an increase since a low point in April 1994. For November 1994 the trend estimate was 19 000, 3.4 per cent above the figure for November 1993.

For sheep and lambs the trend series peaked in October 1994. The 107 500 slaughtered in November 1994 was 33.7 per cent above the figure recorded for November 1993 of 80 400. Trend estimates for all months since April 1994 have been well above the corresponding months for the previous year.

The trend estimate for pigs slaughtered shows a peak in December 1993 and January 1994 of 8000, followed by a slight decline. The trend has declined more steeply over the past four months. The trend estimate of 7500 pigs slaughtered in November 1994 was 4.9 per cent down on the level at November 1993.

Building approvals

There were 285 new dwelling units approved during November 1994 in Tasmania, a 12 per cent decrease on the 325 approved in October 1994, and a 30 per cent decrease on the figure recorded for November 1993 (410).

For the twelve months ended November 1994 there were 3845 new dwelling units approved, six per cent below the 4107 units recorded for the twelve months ended November 1993.

The latest monthly trend estimates for the number of dwelling units approved show thirteen consecutive months of decline.

The highest number of dwelling units approved in November 1994 was recorded by the City of Glenorchy with 38, followed by the City of Hobart with 27, the City of Launceston with 25 and the Municipality of Central Coast with 19.

The value of new residential building approved, at current prices, in November 1994 was $21.2 million, compared with the October 1994 figure of $25.9 million and the November 1993 figure of $33.4 million.

The value of all building approvals, at current prices, in November 1994 was $42.7 million compared with $39.0 million in October 1994 and $66.4 million in November 1993.

Retail

The trend estimate for turnover of retail and service establishments for November 1994, in Tasmania, was $228.7 million, a decrease of less than one per cent on the November 1993 figure of $230.6 million. The monthly trend estimates show a decline in retail turnover in the past five months.

The trend estimate of turnover for November 1994, for Australia ($9288.0 million), was over seven per cent higher than for November 1993 ($8626.2 million). Growth from the previous month in the trend estimate of turnover was 0.4 per cent for November 1994, which is approximately half the growth for each month since June 1994.

In original terms, the estimate of retail turnover in November 1994, for Tasmania, was $233.7 million, an increase of four per cent on the figure recorded for October 1994 ($224.2 million) but more than two per cent below the $239.9 million recorded for November 1993.

New motor vehicle registrations

There were 1280 new motor vehicles (excluding motorcycles) registered in Tasmania during November 1994. This was less than one per cent above the October 1994 figure of 1274 but four per cent below the figure recorded for November 1993 (1333). There were 140 vehicles registered by vehicle rental businesses during November 1994.

Registrations for the twelve months ended November 1994 (13 345) were over four per cent greater than for the twelve months ended November 1993 (12 797).

Engineering construction activity

The value of engineering construction activity commenced in Tasmania during the September quarter 1994 was $45.0 million, a decrease of nine per cent on the $49.0 million recorded in the June quarter 1994. The public sector accounted for over 80 per cent of activity commenced in the September quarter. For the quarter, construction activity commenced on roads, highways and subdivisions totalled $25.8 million.

The value of engineering activity work done in Tasmania during the September quarter 1994 was $35.3 million. The figure for the June quarter 1994 was $70.9 million. Nearly 75 per cent of the work done during the quarter was undertaken by the public sector.

(a) Source, Australian Dairy Corporation. (b) Changing productivity per staff-hour makes these indicators unsatisfactory for long-term comparisons. (c) Metallurgical refining index (Base 1979-80 = 100.0). Output from selected establishments covering the smelting and refining of ferro-alloys, zinc and aluminium. The weighting pattern is based on the establishments' value added as derived from the 1979-80 Manufacturing Census. For multi-product establishments, value added was apportioned to products on the basis of gross receipts from each product. (d) Includes the whole milk equivalent of farm cream intake. (e) Includes butter equivalent of butter oil. (f) Includes spinning, weaving and carpet making. Reported by establishments which manufacture textiles only, or manufacture clothing and textiles in the one plant.

(a) Due to changes to the Banking Act 1959 in December 1989, which removed the distinction between trading and savings banks, figures previously published in this table are no longer comparable with those shown above. (b) Details are the averages of weekly figures for each month. The figures are derived from returns submitted by banks authorised under the Banking Act together with similar returns voluntarily submitted by the State banks; they exclude the Reserve Bank. (c) Excludes non-resident loans.
